"Why did we buy Al-jon? Because we knew it would hold up."

In 1995, Bud wanted to purchase equipment that would last. He bought an Al-jon 400 logger/baler and has been delighted ever since. "It's the toughest baler you can buy," he says. "And it's still working today."

Experience with the 400 prompted his recent purchase of an Al-jon 580CL car logger/baler. Bud says it's a workhorse. One operator can bale a couple of 46,000-pound loads of loose metal in just four or five hours.

Service? "We have no complaints. Al-jon support walks us through ordering parts and repairs over the phone. They even help with trouble shooting."

His advice for others? "Tell 'em to come see me. Al-jon makes great equipment!"
